

The Loyalty of Joan of Arc.

David.S.Restrepo.R.
& Jorge.E Castañeda.U.

The moon illuminates a village in France.

In this village, lives a little girl called Joan of Arc.

This little girl wants to be a brave and loyal person.....

She asks her mother how she can overcome her fears and be loyal, her mother answers her "you have to write your feelings in a notebook and these become true.

she starts to write her emotions in a notebook, and she notices that it really works.

She continues to write in her notebook and she begins to wish to be a warrior.

One day already old, she celebrates years and wishes to become a warrior of the king.

She decides to escape from her house with the intention to make this dream come true.

After several days, she achieves to become a warrior of the king, promising him to be loyal.

She travels around the country to save it against the enemies and also to show her king that she is very loyal to him.

She returns to the capital to visit her king.

When she talks with the king, she tells him her adventures, the king interrupts her.

The king gives her the post of commander of the royal army, because she demonstrates her loyalty to him.

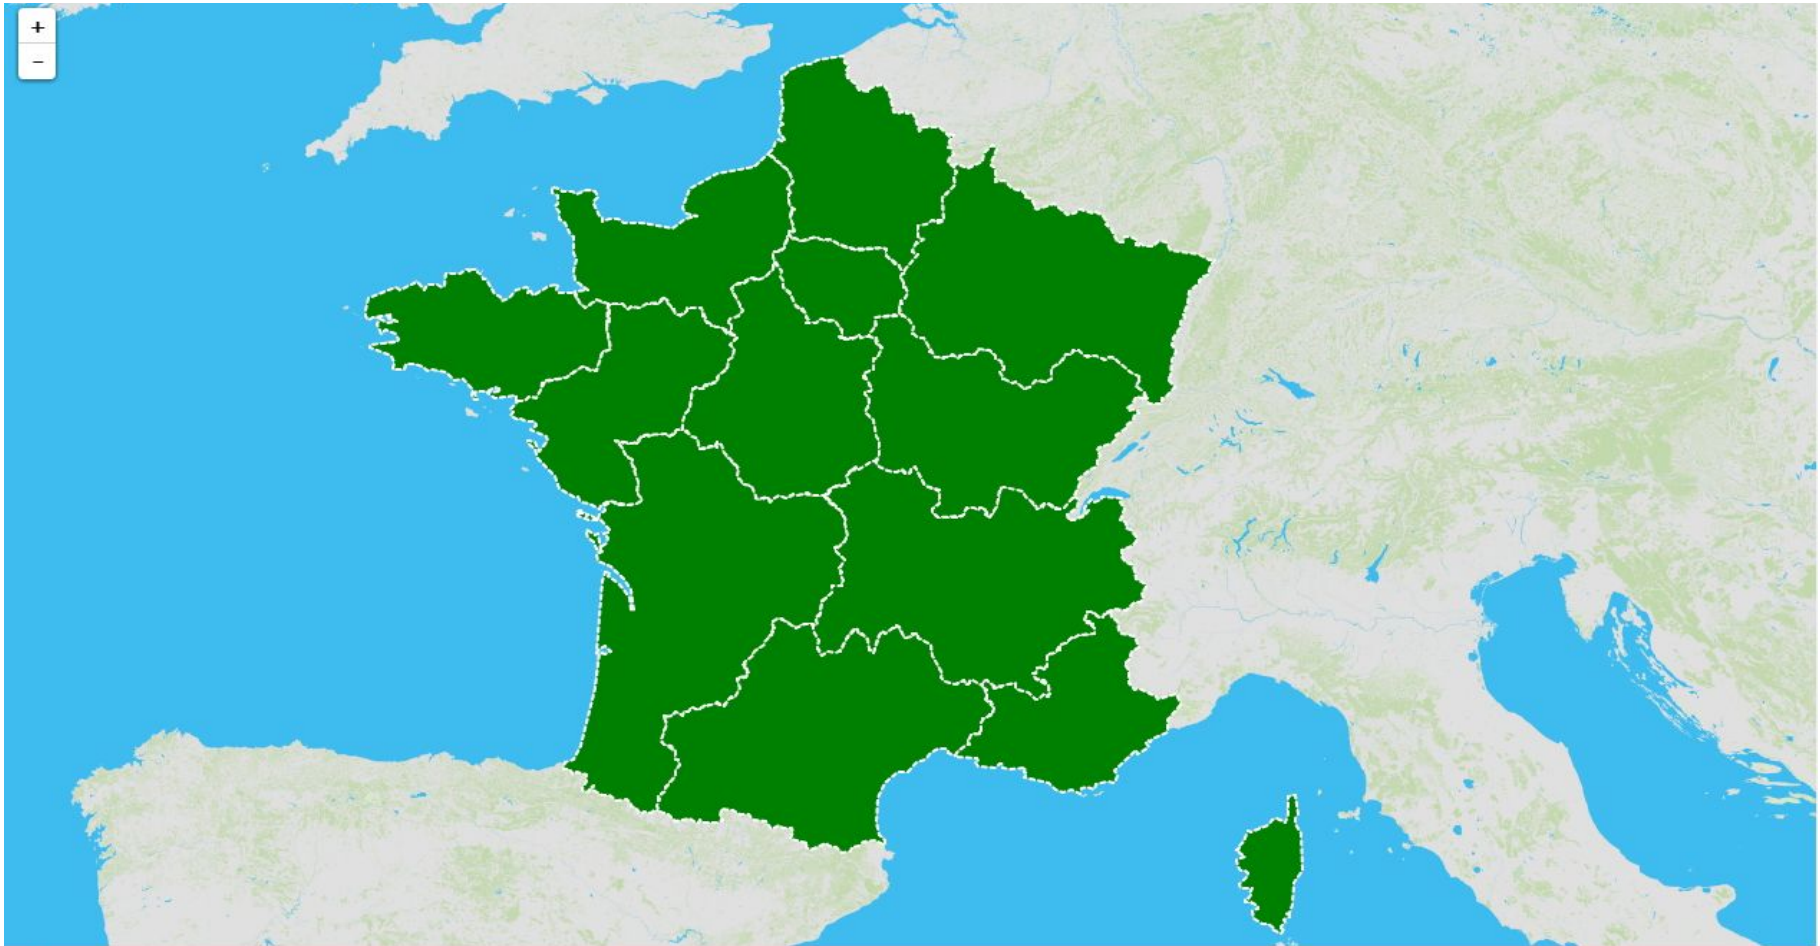

She accepts that post and cuts her hair to continues to show her loyalty to her king and her people.
